Announcement and invitation to present a paper

Call for Papers 11th LS-DYNA Forum

9th - 10th October 2012, Ulm, Germany

By courtesy of Daimler AG

Dear LS-DYNA user,

On the 9th and 10th October 2012, our 11th LS-DYNA Forum will be taking place at the Maritim Hotel in Ulm, Germany. We cordially invite you not only to attend the event but also to take an active part in the program plan by submitting a paper. In your presentation, you can talk about your experiences with LS-DYNA or LS-OPT and you can discuss and exchange these experiences with other users.

User presentations will form the core of the event. General lectures given by renowned speakers are also planned as well as talks on the latest LS-DYNA und LS-OPT developments held by program developers working at LSTC and DYNAmore.

Comprehensive information all about LS-DYNA hard- and software can be obtained from the accompanying exhibition.

The Forum will be accompanied by seminars which will be held during the week of the conference on the subjects of CPM Airbag OoP, ALE and fluid-structure interaction, meshless methods and on concrete and geomaterial modeling.

We hope we have aroused your interest and would be delighted to receive an abstract from you.
